

GOOD WORD FOR OUR BAND DIRECTOR FROM HIS FORMER HOME

Oklahoma Newspaper Has Complimentary Remarks About George D. Barnard, Director of Our Boys' Band.

The following is from the Daily Ardmoreite, published at Ardmore, Okla.:

George D. Barnard, former director of the Ardmore Chamber of Commerce band, has sent friends in this city pictures of the band of which he is now the head at Maysville, Ky., and which has established a wide reputation as a magnificent musical organization in the past year. The band is known as the Maysville Boys' Band and is composed of 40 high class young musicians.

Here is what the citizens of Maysville advertise in letting the world know of their organization:

"The million dollar band from the blue grass of old Kentucky, organized in February, 1919.

"The progressive citizens of this little city pay all expenses to educate these boys. George D. Barnard, the eminent band master and composer has charge of the band as its director. Dr. P. G. Smoot is its physician and accompanies them on their tours to take care of their health. Col. J. Barbour Russell is its business manager and arranges for all their concerts."

Press notices are very flattering of this organization, during the season just passed the band played for several of the big state fairs where they made a decided hit. One commentator stated that people who went to hear the band out of curiosity, expecting to hear nothing but rag time, easy marches and at most a little jazz stuff were surprised when the programs would be opened with such overtures as "William Tell," "Orpheus," "Cavalleria Rusticana," "Mignon," and others of like caliber, all played in a most artistic manner, and concludes his review of the band by saying that Maysville was indeed fortunate in having such a musical organization and such a director in charge.

The Chamber of Commerce Band of Ardmore when up to its full strength was considered the best concert band in the southwest, and one that put Ardmore on the musical map of the country.

Mr. Barnard, the director had had many years experience with some of the best musical organizations in the country, for many years he was connected with some of the largest music publishing houses in the United States and carries recommendations from such musicians as John Phillip Sousa, Arthur Pryor, Pat Conway and many others of international reputation.

ELKS' MEMORIAL IS IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY.

The annual memorial service held Sunday afternoon at the Washington theater by the local lodge of Elks was one of the most successful Memorial services that lodge has ever held in Maysville. The music by the Cardinal Band and Mrs. Peed and Miss King was delightful and Mr. A. G. Sulser's eulogy was splendid. There was a good sized crowd of spectators and quite a number of Elks in attendance.

OFFICERS ELECTION IS POSTPONED BY COUNCIL

City Officers Will Not Be Chosen Until the Last Meeting of Council in December—Many Ordinances Up Tonight.

Another informal meeting of the newly elected city councilmen was held Sunday morning and, it is understood, that all of the time of this conference was spent in going over and whipping into shape the various ordinances which must be adopted by the new council at their first meeting Monday evening covering the differences in charters of Third and Fourth class cities.

Action on the selection of city officials was postponed until later in the month. Under the new city charter, council is required to hold two regular meetings each month and they have unofficially decided upon the first and Third Thursdays of the month for their meetings. On the last meeting in December, it is understood, the body will continue over until the 29th at which time new officers will be elected.

In the meantime councilmen and Mayor-elect Samuel will endeavor to get together on officials so that the election on December 29th shall be harmonious.

ANOTHER MURDER Baffles
POLICE OF PORTSMOUTH

Body of Unidentified Victim of Mysterious Crime Found Lying Near Portsmouth Sunday.

Portsmouth, Ohio, Dec. 5. — Portsmouth police are completely baffled today, following the fourth murder in this vicinity within a month. Though thousands of residents of this and nearby communities filed through the morgue here Sunday and this morning, viewing the body of a man found with the head cut nearly off in a stream four miles west of the city not the slightest clue to the victim's identity has been disclosed.

The inhabitants of six farmhouses within a short radius of the spot where the body was found, declare unanimously that they heard no sound Saturday night, at the time when the slaying is supposed to have occurred, and saw no one near the place.

A trail of blood, visible through the thin coating of snow led from the road to the stream. The body, clad in rough working garments, lay partly in the water. The pockets had been rifled, and all marks of identification cut from the garments. The body was found by William Bolton, a schoolboy, who was on his way to church.

"WOLVES OF THE NORTH" COMING TO PASTIME.

Eva Novak, Herbert Heyes, Percy Challenger and William Eagle Eye (a real Indian) are featured in "Wolves of the North," at the Pastime Wednesday. This is a huge and gripping photodrama of wolf-men and the frozen north, a tremendous adventure of a beautiful girl and a dog with two natures in the frozen north, where passions of men know no laws. This is a thriller if there ever was one. See the gold camp of the great white wilderness. See the husky dog teams sweep over the snow wastes. See the wild night scenes and William Eagle Eye, a real Indian.

AUTO LICENSES NOW BEING ISSUED HERE.

County Clerk J. J. Owens Monday morning began the issuance of 1922 automobile licenses. Tags received last week were opened Monday morning and a considerable rush is expected as these new tags must be placed on cars before January 1st and to avoid the rush car owners will now take out their licenses. Last year there were more than 1200 licenses for automobiles and trucks issued in Mason county.

OLD COUNCIL DIES AT TONIGHT'S MEET.

The last regular meeting of the old City Council will be held at the council chamber Monday evening at 7 o'clock and after they transact all of their business, they will adjourn finally. Immediately the newly elected City Council will take their seats and probably all of their session Monday night will be spent in ironing out by ordinance the several differences between a Third and Fourth class city.

COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS.

The Mason County Board of Education held its last meeting for the year at the office of County Superintendent Turnipseed Monday and wound up its business for the year. The new board which will meet and organize the first of January will see no changes as all of the old members of the board who were candidates were re-elected and the others are hold-overs.

INVENTORY IS FILED
OF WALLINGFORD ES-TATE BY EXECUTOR

Court Rule Answered By Executor of Mrs. Kate Wallingford by Producing Court Inventory of Personal Estate.

In Mason County Court Monday morning the Bank of Maysville as executor of Mrs. Kate Wallingford, deceased, answered a rule issued to show cause why an inventory and appraisal of the estate should not be filed.

Attorneys for the executor at first filed a motion that certain parts of the plaintiff's petition be stricken from the record and after argument by both sides, Judge Purnell over ruled the motion and permitted the petition to remain as filed. After this motion was overruled by the court, the executor made answer and filed the inventory of the estate as requested.

Plaintiff's, in their original petition stated they had been informed that the estate was worth $111,000 alone in government bonds when turned over to the present management, and that they had further been informed that the estate has been depleted to the amount of $30,000.

The inventory and appraisal filed Monday shows the estate's value as follows:

Property	Value
$39,000 U. S. Victory Registered 4% bonds, due Mays 20th, 1923, @ $98.20	$36,498.00
$35,000 U. S. Registered 4% bonds of 1895, due February 1, 1925 @ 104%	36,662.50
50 shares of stock in Bank of Maysville, Maysville, Ky., @ $250	12,500.00
Cash on deposit in Bank of Maysville, Maysville, Ky.	2,511.37
1 Solitaire diamond ring	800.00
1 Gold watch and gunmetal chain	15.00
1 Amethyst and pearl pin	12.00
1 lot silverware	159.00
1 lot of books and periodicals	25.00
Household goods and wearing apparel	1,132.50
Cash in possession of deceased	50.00

Total amount of appraisal $90,365.37

The final court order in the case follows:

"This cause coming on to be heard upon defendant's motion to strike from plaintiff's petition certain allegations as to the amount of defendant's bonds having been $111,000 and depleted $30,000 as scandalous matter; and the court being sufficiently advised overruled said motion, because defendant had failed to file or to show cause why it should not file the inventory and appraisal herein, so as to enable the court to determine whether or not the allegations in the petition with respect to the depletion in the amount of decedent's bonds were true or false. Thereupon defendant in response to the rule awarded herein against it, produced the inventory and appraisal showing the par value of all bonds in its hands to be seventy-four thousand dollars ($74,000.00), which is ordered filed; and then renewed its motion to strike from said petition said allegations as scandalous matter. Whereupon the court suggested to the defendant to traverse the issues tendered by said allegations and that said motion would then be taken under advisement awaiting the outcome of proof upon the issues tendered. Thereupon the defendants declined to plead to the issues tendered by said petition, and the court being sufficiently advised from the admitted allegations thereof, orders and adjudges that defendant's motion be and the same is hereby overruled."

BUCKNER WILL PROBATE.

In the Mason County Court Monday afternoon a paper bearing date of December 31st, 1918, and purporting to be the last will of N. T. Buckner, deceased, was offered for probate. The due execution was proven by the attesting witnesses and admitted to probate. By the terms of the will Mr. Buckner's widow is given an annuity of $400 and the balance of the estate is divided among children and grandchildren.

Stanley Buckner, named in the will as one of the executors, qualified as such without surety on bond as requested in the will.

W. H. Buckner was appointed administrator of N. T. Buckner, deceased and he qualified as such with C. C. Buckner and W. H. Anderson as surety on bond.

Messrs. Wm. Brierly, Chas. Bentley and W. H. Anderson were appointed to appraise the estate.

ARBuckle JURY DEADLOCKED; DISCHARGED SUNDAY NOON

Jury Was Unable to Reach Verdict—Final Vote Stood 10 to 2 Says Foreman in Statement Issued.

San Francisco, Dec. 5. — After 41 hours of deliberation the seven men and five women on the jury which tried Roscoe C. Arbuckle on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, were unable to agree upon a verdict.

The jury was brought into court at its own request at noon, reported a disagreement and asked that it be discharged. The foreman announced that the final ballot stood ten to two, but he did not say whether the majority favored conviction or acquittal.

Court officers said, however, that the balloting favored acquittal throughout. The case was set for retrial January 9.

August Fritze, foreman of the Arbuckle jury, issued a signed statement Sunday night saying that one of the women jurors, who was in the minority, refused to consider the evidence from the beginning and declared that "she would cast her ballot and would not change it until hell froze over."

ORANGEBURG VOTES FOR SCHOOL CONSOLIDATION

Consolidated School Wins In Orangeburg Precinct By Great Margin—Vote Canvassed Monday.

At a special election on the question of voting a special tax for financing a consolidated school held in the Orangeburg school district on last Saturday, the advocates of the new and enlarged school won out by a handsome majority of 236 to 88.

For several months the consolidated school idea has been boosted through this district and the overwhelming majority given the proposition in Saturday's election speaks highly for the desire of the residents of this community to give their children the proper sort of education.

At the monthly meeting of the County Board of Education held Monday, the vote was canvassed and certified. The School Board at its January meeting will probably vote the special tax levy on the district.

SEVERAL THOUSAND
GROWERS ADDED TO
LIST OF POOLERS

100,000,000 Pounds of Tobacco New in the Big Pool of the Co-Operative Association Is Announced.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 5. — With the election of delegates to district conventions only a week away, the past week has been a busy one for the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association.

To each of the 50,000 members of the association, who have signed nearly 100,000,000 pounds of tobacco to the co-operative marketing plan, a ballot has been mailed on which are the names of the candidates for delegate nominated in the main by mass conventions in the different counties, and blank spaces in which may be written the names of others if those nominated do not suit the preference of the individual grower.

Besides these ballots circulars have been sent to each grower informing him of the progress being made by the association since it was formally declared successful in having signed up nearly 85 per cent. of the tobacco in the burley district November 15. Since that date many growers have signed, as the opening of the books on November 26 gave opportunity to those who had failed to join to enter on equal terms with those who had joined.

This opportunity is to remain open until December 10 and in most of the counties is being confined to giving growers the chance to sign. In West Virginia and in some counties of Kentucky, however, campaigns are to be made the coming week and successful growers in the Kentucky campaign also will go to Ohio to assist in several counties in which the leaders desire to sign up all the crop if possible.

Committees appointed at the meeting here November 16 and at the conference of warehousemen and growers here November 22 are at work on the various problems presented by the change in the system of marketing. The large majority of the warehousemen have agreed not to open their plants until the association has been organized permanently and its directors and officers chosen.

WINTER TERM OF CIRCUIT COURT OPENED MONDAY

Mason Circuit Court Is Opened for Winter Term—Grand Jury Organized and Begins Investigations.

The winter term of the Mason Circuit Court was opened by Judge C. D. Newell at the court house Monday morning.

After reading the reports of the various officers, the grand jury was empaneled and Judge Newell gave them the usual instructions and sent them to their room on the third floor of the court house to begin their investigations. The grand jury is composed of the following gentlemen:

J. B. Steers, foreman; Robert Bissett, B. D. Bryant, T. J. Ensor, J. C. Lee, George Rhodes, D. S. Penland, D. Baldwin, Henry Maher, L. P. Fox, John Grant and W. W. Knight.

The grand jury has considerable business referred to it from the lower courts for investigation and will probably be in session for several days.

The petit jury will report Tuesday and be empaneled when court will begin in earnest. The setting of the court calendar will probably occupy much of the time of the court today.

STOLEN AUTOMOBILE

IN GOOD CONDITION.

Fortunately the automobile stolen last week from Hon. Stanley F. Reed and which was found at Garrison, in Lewis county, was in good condition when returned here Saturday by Mr. John Harbeson, local garage man. It had been feared that the machine had been damaged by the thieves. There is now clew as to who took the car.

Every member of the Missionary Society of the Christian church is urged to be at the church Wednesday evening at 7:15.

BANK MERGER WAS COMPLETED SATUR-DAY EVENING LATE

Citizens' State Bank of Dover and Farmers & Traders Bank Consolidated—Equitable Trust Company Moves to Maysville.

Another bank merger was completed late Saturday when the directors of the Farmers & Traders Bank, of this city, and of the Citizens' State Bank of Dover, voted to consolidate effective January 9th.

For some time this deal has been on between the officials of the two institutions but no final action was taken until Saturday afternoon late when the directors of the Citizens' State Bank at Dover voted to join with the Farmers & Traders bank.

This action of the officials of the two banks will make a very strong organization. The Farmers & Traders Bank is probably the fastest growing financial institution in the county and through this consolidation it becomes much stronger in every respect. The bank is hoping to be able to move to their beautiful new building now nearing completion by the first of the year.

The consolidation of the two banks, automatically brings to Maysville another trust company — The Equitable Trust Company, which has been operating in connection with the Dover bank for several years. This trust company will be operated in connection with the Farmers & Traders Bank and will be a separate corporation.

The two banks will continue to operate as separate institutions until January 9th when the consolidation will be completed and thereafter will operate under the Farmers & Traders' name.

OUR POLICY:

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the county as a whole.

OUR FRIENDS, THE ENEMY

The conference of Democratic leaders, members of the legislature, and others held at Louisville Wednesday was doubtless disappointing in a large degree to many persons who are looking somewhere for a party program which is not saturated with partisan politics.

To anticipate that any party conference in Kentucky, regardless of its political complexion, would be entirely free of "bunk," noise and bombast, would be to expect too much, and in this respect our own state differs little from any other. To ask that a gathering of Democrats should concede that the present Republican administration had accomplished even a little good, however apparent that good might be, would also be optimistic beyond the ordinary.

And yet, with all of these reservations on our mental files, there was a hope that this conference of Wednesday would be a little more constructive, somewhat less demagogic, than it was, because the world today is disposed to look with kindness upon any sort of a "limitation of armaments" plan, whether it apply to guns or mere words.

But The Lexington Leader refuses absolutely to take some of these inflammatory Democratic speakers as they appeared to be Wednesday. It has been a long time since they had an opportunity to boast much of a "pee-pul's triumph," and the pent-up fires of long-repressed emotion had to find a vent and a target—hence why not "Howdy, Ed," and the oil inspector? A little short on statesmanship, it is true, but it made the boys yell, just the same.

Still, with all this, The Lexington Leader, we repeat, has hopes. It believes that there are better things in sight in Old Kentucky, and that when the legislature convenes a few weeks from now—Democratic in both branches—there will be a lot of men there who are going to do their best to steer straight toward a constructive program. Some of these men will be Democrats, some of them will be Republicans, all of them will be loyal Kentuckians.

Therefore, let the spell-binders and the spell-binderesses have their flings. That is part of the game. All the taxpayers ask is that when we get down to "brass tacks" at Frankfort this winter, we do our best for the men and women, the boys and girls of Kentucky.—Lexington Leader.

THE TRUTH ABOUT CORN IN THE HOG

One of our learned city newspaper editors tells us that corn in the hog is worth 90 cents a bushel, while corn sold in the raw for cash is worth only 48 cents a bushel. The said learned city writer draws the conclusion, therefore, that it will be very profitable for hog raisers to feed their corn to hogs this winter.

We don't pretend to be corn experts, or hog experts, or experts on corn in the hog, but we believe that our city friend has overlooked a few things. That which lies between the 48 cents for cash corn and 90 cents for corn in the hog, is not merely corn.

When you have sold your bushel of corn for 48 cents and delivered it, the bushel of corn has passed from your life. But if you refrain from selling it, and feed it to hogs instead, you add some things that should count as expenses. The labor of feeding the bushel of corn into the hog, the labor of taking proper care of that hog, the work and risk of keeping that hog alive, the expense of providing him with a comfortable home, the measures to protect the feed from predatory animals, and finally the toil, trouble and dangers of moving a living bushel of corn rather than an inanimate bushel of corn to market.

Forty-eight cent cash corn, plus human labor, plus human brain work, plus other overhead, equals 90 cents per bushel.

And then when that "corn in the hog" gets to market, you may very well find yourself receiving very much less than 90 cents a bushel for him.

SAY, BOYS, GIVE US LESS LATIN!

One of the things we don't understand is why statesmen, who are elected to their jobs by the people, insist on using words at highly important public conferences which most of us don't readily understand.

Take that armament conference. The public, the mass of the people, down to the least educated of us, are millions of times more interested in that meeting, its deliberations and its results than are the men who are participating in it, no matter how great they are, or think they are. Every so often you hear Briand or Balfour or Hughes or some other fellow speak of "the last plenary session." "Plenary" nothing! Plenary means "full, complete." Why not say "the last complete session?" Why use words that fuddle folks or drive them to a dictionary?

Then there is the word "agenda," which they love to roll around under their tongues at the conference. No doubt it is a Latin word—probably a derivative of the word "ago, to treat, to discuss"—but there isn't one of us fifty every day folks that numbers Latin among our accomplishments.

If diplomats responsible to peoples must have a lingo of their own, let them speak it among themselves in their secret sessions, of which you may be sure there are plenty at Washington nowadays, notwithstanding the American government's efforts at publicity.

JAPS ACCEPT 5-5-3

Like the British, the Japanese delegates to the armaments conference have finally agreed to accept the Hughes program for naval cuts without reservations. Neither will they insist on a greater relative future strength for their navy than that indicated in the 5-5-3 proportion of the Hughes scheme. Every day brings further assurances of success for the international program sponsored by the American delegates.

Everybody who lives in the United States has that much to be thankful for, anyway.

COLLEGE FRESHMEN SCORE WELL IN ARMY INTELLIGENCE TESTS

Splendid Record Is Made By Freshman Class of the Kentucky University in Tests Used by U. S. Army Officials.

The Freshman class at the University of Kentucky compares favorably in mentality with officers of the army. This is the conclusion reached after applying the Army Alpha Mental Tests to 275 members of the Freshman class in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Kentucky, the result of which have just been announced by Doctor J. B. Miner, Head of the Department of Psychology. The survey shows that the Kentucky student group compares favorably with those of state universities like Ohio and Minnesota. The middle score of men in the Army Alpha Test shows that Kentucky men score 129, while the Minnesota men in the Freshman class score 130, and in Ohio State University the middle score is 129 for the Freshman class. The average middle score in twenty colleges for men including upper classmen was 130. The highest group which has been reported was at Yale where the median score for Freshmen was 160.

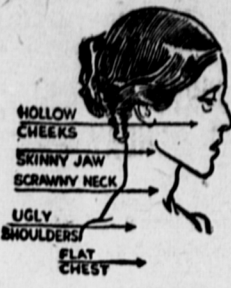

In using the army test for a mental tug of war between the sexes, the women of the class were at a disadvantage. The series of tests were devised for men. Nevertheless, 43 per cent. of the women of the class did as well as the upper 50 per cent. of the men. In 13 women's colleges the middle score of the women students, including the upper classes who test higher was 127.

The most significant fact that comes out of the inventory of the mental stock in trade of the freshmen is that the college group as a whole is comparable to the officers in the army. This means much. Nearly two million men were tested in the army. Among the white men in the draft for the army, approximately 12 per cent. tested A or B. Among the officers 84 per cent. tested A or B, and among the freshmen group at the University of Kentucky 76 per cent. It is from the individuals with this high type of ability that society selects very largely its officers for civic, business and social life, its executives and leaders. Such a forcible demonstration of the high innate ability represented in the student group should help to make the college students realize the serious responsibilities which they are facing and for which they are being trained.

In interpreting any particular score there are a number of important things to be considered, says Doctor Miner. In the first place no mental examination of this kind can test all of the traits of an individual which are socially important. The Army Alpha test, according to the official statement about the test says: "All it does is to afford a reasonably reliable measure of one essential quality—i. e. general intelligence." General intelligence is further explained to mean "the general capacity of an individual consciously to adjust his thinking to new requirements; it is general mental adaptability to new problems and conditions of life." In particular, it may be further said that this series of tests does not measure artistic talent, mechanical ability, or other valuable traits which may not be correlated with general intelligence or mental alertness.

It is also rather obvious that any particular student may not have done himself justice on this series of tests at the time which he took them. He may have been temporarily much below par, or he may have been unusually excited, frightened or disturbed.

FLOATING VILLAGE
UZULES SEAMEN.

In the interior of French Indo-China there is a village whose location is a source of worry to captains of passing steamers. They are never certain where they will find it.

Its name is Snok-Trou, and its location is somewhere on the Mekong River. The village consists of forty or fifty little huts built on rafts and lashed together with rattan ropes. Here dwell about two hundred people, whose chief occupation is fishing.

The rear of the village is lashed to half-submerged trees, but the whole town changes its position from time to time, according to the vagaries of the river or the whims of its inhabitants. Steamboats passing up the river will find it at one spot, and on the return journey will discover that it has moved elsewhere.

Hotel bills in Italy are increased by 20 per cent. by luxury taxes and funds for war widows, etc.

WAY DOWN EAST

At the Opera House Only

A simple old-fashioned story of plain people, embracing the four seasons; a story of love, man and woman, mother and baby; a great bell tolling humanity; a story of laughter, quaint absurdities, springing gay barn dances, sleight bells; a jingling loose voice, sweet and low, strong and tender across fragrant fields and twilight stream; ending amazing scenes, March-storm, ice break up in the roaring river

New York Letter

by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — Have you ever had the foolish desire of losing yourself and getting away from everybody and everything for a period of time? It can be done. Johnson Frank Kirkpatrick of this city has been missing for three years and now turns up a cheery lad of sixteen without the slightest recollection of where he has been or what he has undergone. This victim of amnesia returned to his previous existence only to be clapped into a hospital and submitted to the inquiries and examinations of numerous eminent medical authorities. Not liking the ordeal he promptly disappeared again, evaporating into thin air. If one could get away for a time and live one's own life it is not to be wondered that they would return when surrounded by such tedious investigation. The search is on again for this wayward lad.

Some time ago the Naval authorities were thrown into a state of collapse over the action of one Lieut. Commander Reginald Vnable, of the U. S. S. "Arizona" who ran his destroy-arrangements made to handle the under out to sea to meet one of the in-fortunate. Anyone with the ability to coming liners. Aboard this liner was a distinguished American diplomat and everyone thought that the demonstration by the destroyer was in his honor. But it was the dictate of Cupid rather than diplomatic homage. Aboard the ship was Miss Fay Bainter, the delectable little star of "East is West" and it just so happens that she was the affianced bride of Commander Venable. What I like most was the fact that Venable straightway admitted that the trip was in her honor and disclaimed any official duties. The Navy had to wink at it and the happy pair separated on their respective ways. Today we hear that they are Mr. and Mrs. and all New York is glad that love has had its way. Few brides get an introduction like this, but no one begrudges it to Fay Bainter.

Thanksgiving was a day of fullness in New York. I don't believe there was a hungry man, woman or child in all the great city by nightfall, so much so that the U. S. S. "Arizona" who ran his destroy-arrangements made to handle the under out to sea to meet one of the in-fortunate. Anyone with the ability to signify a need of companionship had that desire satisfied. The civic, charitable, social, and church organizations were on the job as never before and the town fairly glowed with ample good feeding and kindness. The parks were without their customary habitues and by 4 o'clock old Knickerbocker seemed to be snoozing in the peaceful quiet that comes with well-cared for innards.

The most expensive fur coat sold this season is said to be a Russian sable recently made up for a Manhattan society woman. It is made of 119 skins, is valued at $60,000 and was three years in the making. The skins are matched with absolute perfection.

"The Dream Maker" at the Empire is an excellent vehicle for William Gillette, and a novel and interesting play into the bargain. Mr. Gillette has an opportunity of the kind given him in "Sherlock Holmes" to be just the sort of person that he does to perfection; a gentle, guileful, quietly forceful master of crooks! In "The Dream Maker," he devotes himself to saving the daughter of the woman he once loved from a blackmailers' trap, obtains a complete confession from the conspirators and sent them on their way, first making them play a masquerade with him in order to convince the distraught heroine that her experience with them has been only a vivid fantastic dream. It sounds melodramatic to the extreme—and a bit crazy, too—but with William Gillette in possession of the guiding reins it is tremendously interesting.

An accident occurred every twenty minutes on the streets of this city last year. There were 27,550 vehicular accidents which killed 864 persons and injured 17,123 men and 6,146 women. Are women more careful than men? It must be. I'm not giving these figures for the sake of alarming possible visitors away from our streets; but just because we really take a sort of pride in any big figures about the city, no matter what they are about.

No one in the world could write a book "Of All Things" better than my own Robert Benchley. I say my own, even though he may not know it. But in following him week after week in one of our numerous publications I have decided that he has the happiest slant on things dramatic and otherwise than anyone I know. In fact, I withhold my opinion on theatrical productions until after I read what he says and nine times out of ten I agree, which makes him almost perfect. In this book he writes of everything which a newspaper man encounters and does so with a gorgeous and easy humor which makes me proud that I am a newspaper woman. Let those who feel the lure of the fourth estate heed the words of this young sage!

IRELAND IS OFFERED A FREE STATE.

London, Dec. 3. — Sinn Fein has been offered an "Irish free state" within the empire, with a legal dominion status effective on year from the date of its acceptance and the provision that Ulster can enter after six months. The London Times said today in a purported outline of the latest offer of Premier David Lloyd George.

Women, on an average, have broader heads in proportion to their length, and darker eyes and hair than men.

UNCLE TED'S BED-TIME STORIES.

Business Ideas Applies To Nation's Versus Diplomatic Tangle.

"You know why you say that and so do I," was Jack's reply to his next-door chum, Freddie, when Freddie had kept up a rapid-fire conversation in which he insisted that President Harding's suggestion of some sort of association of nations was just like Woodrow Wilson's world club plan. "Why do I, then?" was Freddie's reply.

"Because your father is a Democrat and you don't want to admit that our President, who happens to be a Republican, ever thinks for himself. How do you suppose the big conference in Washington ever got there if it wasn't because President Harding worked out the plan and succeeded in starting it so well that he could go back to his desk and run this country?"

"Oh, you kiddies," exclaimed Uncle Ted as he arrived on the scene of battle. "You must not take sides like that about things as big as this conference which means so much to the future of the world. Everybody must pull together. So far as President Harding's suggestion of an association of nations is concerned, it has nothing to do with the world club plan. So rest easy on that score."

"Tell us something about it," said Ruth.

"First of all," began Uncle Ted, "the suggestion put out by our President is no more like the world club than Ick is like white. There would be no body of representatives as in the world club. There would not be any written set of rules as for the club. No penalties would be provided for those who violate agreements. It's biggest difference is this: With the big conference running so smoothly in Washington, with greater gains made toward limiting armament than ever before, President Harding no doubt felt that if nations could get together so well this time they could do it again, provided they were not tied hand and foot by a lot of rules. He put out the suggestion while the conference is in session so that discussion of the idea could be started, thereby getting the ball rolling toward that ultimate, but far away, world peace."

"Another big fact is that this new idea would include ALL COUNTRIES even Germany and Russia, (when Russia becomes a stable government). Invitations would be sent out just as they were for the present conference and the various countries could send

ENDORSED AT HOME.

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Maysville Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Maysville adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

D. S. Stout, 22 East Second street, Maysville, says: "Just after my recovery from pneumonia, my kidneys began to give me trouble. My back had a steady dull ache and it hurt me to breathe. My eyes would get puffy underneath. I knew my kidneys were in bad shape and something would have to be done to check the disorder so I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. It didn't take long to rid me of my trouble. I take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy — get Doan's Kidney Pills — the same that Mr. Stout had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

representatives or not, just as they wished. In other words, no strings would be attached to the invitation and nobody's feelings hurt if they didn't come. BUT — (and children that little word is always big but in this case bigger than ever) no nation would care to stand aside from such meetings. Nine times out of ten, moral force is greater than the sword, particularly in these times when the world is sick of war. The people who make up the various countries would not stand long for those in power who would refuse to join in a discussion of matters such as are now being talked over in Washington. That is the great power behind such meetings as the one in Washington and those suggested for the future by our President. It isn't a matter of forming a club such as the League or Nations that gives one country six times the power of another so that the gathering ends in 'putting something over.' It is simply a proposition of asking nations to get together and talk over serious matters, leaving it to moral force such as is being displayed today throughout the world, to sway the meeting into the right channel.

"The relations between the various European countries are not settled. Great Britain and France are arguing over questions in the Near East as well Germany's settlement in the terms of the Versailles treaty. France feels she must have a large army and the fact that Great Britain has fallen into line with Secretary Hughes' ideas for reduction of armament has not helped the feeling between those two countries. But that is what the conference is for and by the time it is ended a real understanding will have been reached. It now looks as if Premier Lloyd George of England will come to this country; he may even now be on his way by this time. And the suggestion of our President has had more to do with his final decision to come than any other one thing. He knows that now is the time to get together as sane, sensible, business men. No alliances are necessary, in the first place, and the world knows that the United States will not enter one."

"Our fathers established this country on a policy of keeping out of alliances and the world is no different today from what it was then. We cannot tell ourselves to Europe by rash promises, but we can act with them, the same as business men get together, and try to reach an understanding that will benefit not only ourselves but the whole world."

LOGAN FARMERS ORGANIZE SIXTH SIRE ASSOCIATION.

Organization of cooperative purebred sire associations among Kentucky dairymen is making rapid progress, the sixth association for the state recently having been formed in Logan county, according to E. M. Prewitt, dairy extension specialist from the College of Agriculture. The association, which was organized under the direction of County Agent W. R. Whitlow and the college dairy extension division, has 30 members who are owners of approximately 100 cows.

As the first step in the work of the organization, members of the new association will purchase purebred Jersey sires having as their mothers cows that produced more than 400 pounds of butterfat in one year. By means of the cooperative plan, dairymen in the county will be able to use merits sires in their dairy herds at small cost. Considerable increase in the milk and butterfat production of the cooperative sire plan. Two members of the association have ordered five purebred heifers as a part of their plans to place the animals in their herds on a registered basis.

Miss Martha Watts, the first woman missionary to South America, founded a small school there which was used as a model for the entire public school system of Brazil.

PEPTO-MANGAN MAKES BLOOD GOOD

Physicians Rely Upon It. Sold in Liquid or Tablet Form.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is a blood builder. It restores blood to its natural vigor. Weak blood, clogged with poisons, causes that exhausted, dead tired feeling. It shows in the complexion, which becomes dull-hued, pale or sallow. That is because there is an absence of the red corpuscles which give skin a healthy, rosy color.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan taken regularly every day soon makes new blood rich and red. Physicians have prescribed it for years in cases of anemia, or poor blood condition. The weak blood is fortified by a fresh supply of red corpuscles. The feeling of physical vigor returns in a remarkable manner. Instead of a droopy, down-at-the-heel feeling, there is live, wide-awake energy. Sleep is more restful and the appetite sharper.

Any druggist has Gude's Pepto-Mangan in both liquid and tablet form. Look for the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," on the package.—Advertisement.

"WAY DOWN EAST" OPENS ENGAGEMENT HERE THIS EVENING

Big Feature Picture To Be Seen Here
All This Week—Private Showing Proves Greatness Of Feature.

She came up the road with a bundle under her arm—some clothing, a few strips of ribbon and a baby's sock.

At the Squire's place she stopped to ask for work. Slender little thing, pretty too—but very hot and tired. A strip of linen she used for a garter was chafing her leg, and there was a blister on the left heel.

She asked Squire Bartlett for work—any kind of work, for she wanted a home more than anything else. He wanted to know where her folks were and where she came from—then told her he didn't have anything for her. He was that type of man, very strict and positive, and running everything, only his wife knew how to make him change his mind without knowing he was doing it. She did this time. The girl said her name was Anna and they took her in.

They had a neighbor, a wealthy young man on his country estate.

Well, it was amazing the way Anna improved in appearance. A beauty in a rather delicate way and the old Squire got as fond of her as his children.

But he didn't know his son, David, fell in love with Anna the first time he saw her. And apparently she did too. One of those cases we all wish we had or hope to have, just one man for one woman out of all the millions. The Squire wanted David to marry his distant niece, Kate, and Sanderson came around to call on Kate. When he saw Anna, recognized her, and he told her to get out of there. He knew something about her past. She would not go, fought him like the sturdy little woman she was and he didn't dare tell. But when Martha, the mosquito-tongued gossip found out, what a scene she made. She drove them all into the most amazing situation you ever knew about, a scene that made the Herald man in New York say, "My hair stood on my head and I stood in my chair."

It's something you'll never forget as long as you live for it is the greatest climax the over-surprising genius of Griffith has yet brought to the films. You'll hear about it in "Way Down East," opening at the Washington today.

A private showing of the big picture Sunday night proves it to be all that is advertised of it. Shows will begin promptly at 2:30 and 7:30. Because of the length of the picture there will be but one showing each afternoon and evening.

CONGRESS OPENS TODAY.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Congress was back on the job today, confronted with the huge legislative tasks of the regular sessions.

The main job, appropriating the billions to pay the government's bills for the next fiscal year, will be set out in the president's budget message, which was to be read in both houses today.

Revision of the tariff will be started at once by the Senate. This will follow the lines to be suggested by Harding in a message to be delivered in person tomorrow at a joint session.
